THE COURTS.

Important Argument Relative Trades Unions.

The Pilot Commissioners' Powers Sustained.

William Walker, a colored boy, was yesterday committed for examination by Commissioner Shields on a charge of breaking open the letter-Doz at the corner of Broome and Sullivan streets. Judge Davis, of the Supreme Court, decided yeserday in a matter recently brought before him at Chambers, that lots under water are assessable for improvements, the same as other real estate. In the suit of Thornton vs. the St. Paul and Pacinc Railroad Company and others, the facts of which have been fully given in the HERALD, Judge Robinson, of the Court of Common Pleas, before whom, at Equity Term, the case was recently tried, gave his decision yesterday. He dismisses the complaint except as to the railroad company, as to which judgment is given for $105,000, with interest from December 31, 1887, unless trial by jury is demanded by the company on the conditions specified in the opinion.

John Jacob Astor left to his grandson, Charles stor Bristed, $150,000 and a life interest in his country seat at Heil Gate, containing thirteen and hali acres. Mr. Bristed, during his lifetime, expended some $9,000 in opening Eighty-ninth street, which runs through the real estate mentioned. After his death his widow, as executrix, claimed payment from the United States Trust Company, who hold the money of the minor estate, of half this amount, and a petition to this effect was submitted to Judge Davis in Supreme Court, Chambers. Judge Davis decided yesterday that as the Trust Company is a general guardian of the minor son the remedy is not by petition but by regular suit.

IMPORTANT QUESTION CONCERNING TRADES UNIONS.

In November, 1873, James Doyle, a member of the Society of Operative Masons, was expelled for working for less than "society wages." He went before the society and proved his innocence of the charge, when, he claims, there was sprung upon him another charge of having gone in on a "struck job." This charge, he says, was made against him without due notice, as required by the bylaws. Notwitnstanding this the society expelled him. Thereupon his attorneys, hessess Breen and Gearon, applied to Judge Donohue at Special Teim, who granted a writ of mandamus reinstating him into membership. From this decision the society appealed to the General Term of the Supreme Court, and the appeal came up for argument yesterday, explistrict Attorney Garvin, representing the society, argued at length that these societies are the exclusive judges of the rights and privileges of their members; that the society was justified in its expulsion of Doyle, and that from their decision there was no appeal. Matthew P. Breen in reply maintained on behalf of Doyle that his client did not have due notice of the enarge made, as required by the constitution and bylaws of the society, as well as by the laws of the State, to which the society is subject, it being a chartered institution, and that the Court should interfered in all cases where a mainlest injustice had been done a member by an incorporated society, such as this was, and review their proceedings, and, in a proper case, compel the society to recognize his rights and interests as a member. The Court reserved its decision. ob." This charge, he says, was made against

BOARD OF PILOT COMMISSIONERS. Thomas Conley and two other pilots some time lince built a boat and applied to the Pilot Commisloners to have the same numbered and added to the Sandy Hook pliot boats. This the Pilot Comalsmoners rejused to do, having passed a bylaw missioners refused to do, having passed a bylaw limiting the number of boats. Upon this application was made to Judge Davis, at Supreme Court, Chambers, for a peremptory mandamus against the Pilot Commissioners, directing them to add this boat to the list of pilot boats, it was urged for the application that the new boat was strong and seaworthy, whereas most of the boats now in use are, as claimed, old and unseaworthy. Judge Davis gave his decision in the case yesterday, denying the application. He held that the Commissioners have the power to limit the number of pilot boats by bylaws; that the same are obligatory upon the pilots, and that upon the facts appearing on the return a mandamus could not be issued.

THE CUSTOM HOUSE SMUGGLING CASE.

Yesterday, in the United States Circuit Court, No. 27 Chambers street, before Judge Benedict and the jury, the trial of David P. Harris, the Custom House inspector who is indicted for having aided in the smuggling of 20,000 cigars from Havans into this port, was resumed. Mr. S. G. Courtney summed up the testimony on behalf of the deiendant, contending that the evidence for the prosecution was that of a lot of sinuageers, accountries and thieves, who should not be beheved when they attempted to take away the liberties of an honest and reportant cuttern from prosecution was that of a lot of snuggiers, secoundrels and thieves, who should not be believed when they attempted to take away the liberties of an honest and reputable citizen. Counsel said it was a common thing nowadays to accuse every government officer of corruption, and the public press had not hesitated to charge even the President of the Repuone and his capinet Ministers with corrupt and dishonest speculation. This was a wicked conspiracy against the desendant, and there was no evidence to sustain the charge of smuggling but that of a lot of Spanlards of a bastard race, who never could telt the truth, even it they were sworn on a stack of Bibles piled as high as the moon. It was alleged in the course of the trial by Mr. Aveilaret, the principal witness for the prosecution, that Mr. Harris, having sent him a package of cigars in mistake for his own, called at Mr. Aveilaret's lodgings, in East Fourth street, when the latter procured a carriage, in which, he said, Mr. Harris drove off with the hackman and returned soon after with Mr. Aveilaret's right trunk. The testimony of the hackman was that the person who brought the trunk in the carriage on the occasion in question was a man of light and andy complexion, while (said Mr. Courtney) it was apparent to everybody in court that Harris, the desendant, was a man of dark hair and dark somplexion. He contended that the witnesses for the prosecution had been trained to point out Harris as the person upon whom it was intended to lasten guilt, and that, taking into account all he lacts and circumstances of the case and the unreliable character of the witnesses for the prosecution, whoere swearing to save themselves from humannent, the jury would be lairly justified in acquitting the defendant.

Mr. A. H. Purry, United States Assistant District Attorney, replied on the part of the government. He commented on certain questions which he had addressed, in the progress of the trial, to John H. Diemart, an inspector of customs, who had been called and examined as a wit

BUING A LONDON INSURANCE COM-PANY.

The hearing of the case of the American Mer-shants' Union Express Company vs. the imperial Insurance Company of London was resumed yes-Insurance Company of London was resumed yesterday, in the United States Circuit Court, before Judge Wallace and a jury. As already reported in the Herald, the action was brought by the plainting against the desendants to recover the amount of a policy of insurance effected on a quantity of goods which the plainting were transporting from Albany to this city on one of the trains of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad, and which goods, it was alleged, were destroyed by a conflagration of petroleum caused by a collision of trains on the railroad in question. The facts and pleadings in the auit have been siready published in the Herald. Judge Wallace directed a verdict for the plaintims for $6,306 54, and the jury found accordingly.

A RUSSIAN LADY AND HER LACES. SUIT AGAINST THE NEW YORK CENTRAL BAIL-BOAD.

in the year 1869 a Russian lady of considerable distinction was travelling in this country on the New York Central Railroad between Albany and Niagara Falls. Her name is Oiga de Mainta Pra-Mingara Falls. Her name is olga de Mainta Fraloff. While on that journey one of her trunks, containing laces which she valued at about $15,000, was either lost or stolen from the train. Having discovered her loss she instituted suit against the railroad company to recover compensation. In 1872 the case was tried before Judge Woodruff and a jury. The result was a disagreement, eight being for the plaintiff and four for the delendant. Yesterday the suit was brought on for the escond time in the United States Circuit Court belore Judge Wallace and a jury. It was probably occupy several lays. Mr. J. W. Gerard, for the plaining, gave a mistory of the alleged less by the plaining. The trunk in which were the laces, it is chalmed, was broken into when in the laces, at its chalmed, was broken into when in the largesse car, and both locks were found forn of on the arrival of the train at Niagara Falls. The laces chalmed to to be lost were stated by connect to be ancient and of great value, of the qualities called old Flemisa Point, Foint d'Angletene, and Point de Venise. On the question of the value of laces of that character it is understood that a large number of dealers in lace and experts will be called in the progress of the trial. The railroad company are represented by William Elliott and F. Shepard as counsel.

THE CASE OF CARL VOGT. in the case of Carl Vegt, who is accused of the murder and robbery of the Count de Bois de Bianca, at Brussels, and whose extradition on this charge is demanded by the Beigian government, a considerable amount of testimony, oral and written, was taken festerday before Commissioner Kennetta G. White. The examination was adjourned to Saturday next, when, it is expected, the prosecution will be able to finish their testimony.

SUPREME COURT-CIRCUIT-PART 1. VERDICT AGAINST THE CITY.

Before Judge Van Vorst In the assessment for paving Fifty-first street, from Eighth avenue to the Hudson River, Bern-hard Mayer paid an assessment on the wrong lot. hard Mayer paid an assessment on the wrong lot. He tried to have the mistake remedied, but to his repeated applications to have the money thus erroneously paid refunded to him the city authorities paid no attention. He finally brongst suit against the city and the case was tried yesterday. The proof was clear and positive, and a verdict was rendered for $224, being the juli amount claimed, with interest.

SUPREME COURT-CIRCUIT-PART 3. VERDICT AGAINST A RAILROAD COMPANY.

Before Judge Lawrence. John Kuse, in crossing the New Haven Railroad track at Seventy-lourth street and Fourth avenue on the 20th of December, 1873, was struck by the engine of a passing train and killed. Suit was brought by his widow against the railroad company for $5,000 damages, and the case came to trial yesterday in this court. The testimony was contradictory as to the matter of signals, some asserting that none were used and others that they were used. It was conceded, however, to have been a dark and foggy day. Judge Lawrence, in his charge, left it to the jury to determine the question of signals. The jury was evidently divided in the matter, as they brought in a verdict for only $2,000 damages.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

Before Judge Sutherland. CONVICTION OF BOUGH OF FORGERY IN THE

FIRST DEGREE.

The trial of John Bough, charged with forgery in the first degree, was continued yesterday. It was claimed by the prosecution that the accused altered a deed on the 23d of April, conveying a house and lot situated near the corner of Seventh arenue and 124th attent, by Osmun Reed to Jacob Allison and wise. There were quit claim deeds in reserence to the property in question offered in reserence to the property in question offered in reserence to the property in question offered in reserence to the property in question at issue. District Attorney Russell, in summing up the case for the people, intimated that most of the parties engaged in this transaction were "cat" real estate brokers.

Mr. Mitchell, who defended the accused, presented a great many requests to charge.

His Honor Judge Sutherland delivered an elaborate charge to the jury, who retured to deliberate upon their verdict at a quarter past four o'clock. At ten minutes to live they returned with a verdict of guilty under the second count in the indictment, which charged Bough with altering the deed. The prisoner was remanded till Friday for sentence. tered a deed on the 23d of April, conveying a

On the 24th of December the prisoner called Charles Blum out of a hotel in Canal street, and when Blum reached the front door Connors kicked him and abstracted from his pocket the sum of $115. His Honor sentenced the prisoner to the state Prison for the period of eight years.

PELONIOUS ASSAULT UPON A WOMAN. Benjamin W. Colling, who was charged with wounding Kate Fox in the face with a knife on the 19th of December, pleaded guilty to an assault with intent to do oodily narm. He was sent to the State Prison for lour years.

TOMBS POLICE COURT. Before Judge Smith.

A woman, fortorn and haggard, was brought into court yesterday morning by Officer Wiggin, of the sixteenth precinct. He had found her in the street in a helpless state of intoxication, and accordingly made a charge against her. She was accordingly made a charge against her. She was too stupid with whiskey to answer any of the questions put to her. The officer, however, knew her name to be Mary Cody, but thought it strange that she should be abroad in the public streets, for he had heard two days ago that she was delivered of a child. While the Court and onlicers were wondering at this statement, officer Hogan, of the same precinct as Wignin, entered the courtroom in company with a two-day old baby, whom me had found in the streets, about two blocks from the spot where Mary Cody had been arrested. It was Mary's child, but she was too drunk to know it. The debauched woman was thrust from the rought down to isil, and her child was given in charge to Miss Foster, the matron of the Tomos, who sent it to the Island.

THE WALKER STREET BURGLARS. James Tayler, Joseph Crosby and Charles Stratz, the burglars captured in Walker street or Tuesday night, by the officers of the Leonard street station, were yesterday committed for trial, each in de-fault of $2,000 bail.

JEFFERSON MARKET POLICE COURT. A HEAVY SWINDLE ON RAILBOAD COMPANIES.

Before Judge Osterbourg. A man named Orange K. Howard was brought up at the above Court yesterday on two charges, one of forgery and the other of talse pretences, preferred by John M. Toucey, Superintendent of the Hudson River Railroad Company. On the 4th of January Howard came to the office of Mr. Toucey be signed by Thomas R. Sharp, Transportation Master of the Baitimore and Ohio Railroad Company, which signature Mr. Sharp declared yester-day to be a forgery.

The pass was granted, but Howard, whom Mr. Toucey subsequently discovered was a cneat and a fraud, was arrested on i uesday by Officer Kealy, of the St. Nicholas Hotel, where he was stopping. The prisoner pleaded guilty yesterday and was committed in $10,000 bail to answer, as there were several other railroad men waiting to make similar complaints. The career of Howard is somewhat interesting. His first known operation of a confidence character was in Charleston, S. C., about a year ago. He hired a wharf from the First National Bank of that city, at a rental of $5,000 a year. He also nired a number of employée and set up a general freight and steamship receiving company, borrowing all the money he possibly could from the neighboring railroad companies. After raising several thonand dollars in this manner he suddenly decamped. He afterwards appeared as a railroad conductor, under the names of Howell, Waltemeyer and howland. Dressed as such he would tush into the olice of the president of any company, persent a letter of introduction from some onicial of the Baltimore and Onio Railroad Company, get a pass over the line and immediately afterwards sell it to the highest builder. In this manner Howard has yictimized the Fall River Railroad, the Pennsylvania Central, Tennessee Air Line, and Union Facific. From memorandums taken from him by the officer it was found that he had conductor's checks from hearify every railroad in the country. He came to New York only a few days ago came to his printing office to day and registered at the St. Nicholas Hotel as O. K. Howard, of the Baltimore and Onio Railroad Company, and ordered a number of cards to be printed, also bill heads, letter paper and transfer sheets, with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, and ordered a number of cards to be printed, also bill heads, letter pape
